Budding artists and designers are being asked to help design a logo for the PCC's youth engagement work

The successful logo will be the centrepiece for the PCC's Youth Advisory Group (YAG) who speak and engage directly with the PCC and West Yorkshire Police to ensure that young peoples' views on policing and community safety are regularly heard and taken on board.

The YAG gives young people the opportunity to voice their opinion and views on policing matters, ask questions and have a more active say on how they are policed in West Yorkshire.

YAG is made up of over 30 members aged between 13 and 21 and was created by the PCC's office in 2014 to raise the profile of young people within the wider community, and to ensure their voice is heard and views listened to. Collectively, members act as a strong voice for young people when communicating with the PCC and other partners.

A competition has now been launched to create a new logo in helping to appeal to would be new members and raise further awareness of the group. It will replace the original logo used since the group's creation six years ago that was designed by school students.

The competition closing date for entries is 30 June 2020

The competition is open to three age categories of up to 7 years, 8-12 years, 13-21 years. You can draw, paint or sketch your logo and ask a parent or carer to submit it. A winner, one from each category will be featured on the PCC's website, the overall winner will receive a £100 online shopping voucher.

The successful logo will be used online as soon as possible.

Submit applications to consultation@westyorkshire.pnn.police.uk by the end of June.
